LIAO YANG BATTLE

The Second Day's Engagement
Commenced at Dawn and Raged Until Evening.

REPEATED BAYONET ADVANCES.

Japs Attempted to Occupy a Round
Topped Hill Which Was Literally
Shaved by Russian Shells.

The Fight at Liao Yang Will Probably Rank As One of the Great Sanguinary
Battles in the History of the World.

Liao Yang, Sept. 1.—The second day's battle commenced at dawn Wednesday. The Russians made repeated bayonet advances on the road directly south of Liao Yang, where the Japanese approached from Sanquaship and Tao, shelling the positions in the Russian lines until 4 in the afternoon, when the engagement, which was general throughout the south and southeast, narrowed to the main line. The Japanese advance on the southeast was by way of the Feng-Wang-Cheng road.

Immediately in front of Chiaoantun the Japanese stubbornly attempted to occupy a round topped hill, which was literally shaved by the Russian shells, making repeated attempts the entire day, where apparently it was impossible for anything to live. The cannonading continued from this point to the vicinity of Wangpaotai until Wednesday evening without apparent advantage to either side. The Japanese dropped shells within two or three miles of the railroad station and in the plain of Wentzhu mountain, which is the most important eminence around Liao Yang, but the Japanese abandoned aggression there on account of the resistance they met. There was cannon fire Tuesday night and this is expected nightly.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 1.—With the knowledge that the Russian and Japanese armies about Liao Yang are locked in a death struggle the tension in St. Petersburg Wednesday night was strained to the utmost. It is believed here that the fight can not stop short of the crushing defeat of one side or the other.

All reports so far are favorable to the Russians, though the suspension of all news for many hours has been exceedingly trying and has given rise to several rumors, somewhat tempering the earlier enthusiasm.

It is stated officially, however, that the report that the railway and the telegraph have been cut north of Liao Yang is untrue.

It is thought here that, in view of the numbers engaged, the desperation of the assaults and the length of the line, about seven miles, the losses in the two days' fighting can not fall short of 10,000 on each side. Both sides are straining every nerve, realizing that the fortunes of war for a whole year are in the scale, and neither side is in the mood or the position to spare men in the effort to achieve a final victory.

The battle of Liao Yang will probably rank as one of the great sanguinary battles of history. It is estimated by the general staff that the Japanese armies engaged number 17 divisions of 15,000 men each, or, allowing for inefficients, about 240,000 men. Each division has 36 guns, and there are two independent artillery brigades of 100 guns each, making a total of about 800 guns. The estimates of Russian correspondents range at from 600 to 1,000 guns per side.

In the preliminary fighting of Monday the Russians captured 200 prisoners, who have already arrived at Harbin, and report persists that they captured over 40 Japanese guns Monday. Gen. Kuropatkin's effective forces are variously estimated at from 170,000 to 200,000 men.

One of the surprising phases of the situation is the endurance of the men. They have been engaged desperately for two days after more or less severe fighting under unfavorable conditions every day since August 24. It would seem that human endurance could not persist much longer without respite of some sort.

Hill, Winchester; G. W. Gourley, Beattyville, and W. M. Ramsey.

It was very apparent from the outset that there will be an interesting trial, each side being ably represented and each watching with greatest care the actions of the other.

The Hunter attorneys presented numerous affidavits to the court, alleging fraud, fear of violence and intimidation if they undertook to count the election returns in London. The Edwards side presented claims of fraud and other issues.

ASWEEPING ORDER

All Butcher Workmen Throughout the United States Requested to Go on Strike.

IT MAY CAUSE A MEAT FAMINE.

The Order Affects in All About 2,000
Men in Chicago and Ten Independent Plants.

The Other Cities Are: East St. Louis,
Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City,
Sioux City, New York, Milwaukee and Syracuse.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Famine in meat is declared by the strikers to be the probable result of their new move in the strike against the packers. Orders have been issued for a general strike of all butcher workmen throughout the country. They are expected to go out Thursday. The order will affect in all about 2,000 men in Chicago, and ten independent plants. The order, if observed, will also affect independent plants of large capacity in the following cities: East St. Louis, Omaha, St. Louis, Kansas City, Sioux City, New York, Milwaukee, Syracuse and hundreds of small plants throughout the country which employ from 10 to 20 men. All together, union officials assert, there will be 15,000 men to go out, and the meat supply will be seriously crippled, leaving as the only supply the output of the big packers by their non-union help. The packers say it is Leader Donnelly's aim to create a meat famine, which, he thinks, would be forced. "Donnelly is undertaking the impossible," said a representative of one of the packers. "There is little chance of a meat famine. The independent packers, who, by their collusion with the unions, have profited much during the strike, will suffer the most."

New York, Sept. 1.—The members of the Amalgamated Association of Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen formerly employed here by the Schwarzschild & Sulzburger and the United Pressed Beef Cos., who expected that the negotiations in the west would lead to a peaceful settlement of the strike, were Wednesday dejected over the news from Chicago that orders for a general strike of the butchers throughout the country has been issued.

The packers here say that they have filled the places of the strikers and are killing and making deliveries as usual under police protection. The strikers say that the boycott is hurting the packers and that the bulk of the men who quit work at the abattoirs of the two companies are employed in the slaughter houses of independent firms.

Boston, Sept. 1.—No order regarding a general strike of all butcher workmen in the country has yet been received from the headquarters in Chicago of the international union by the officers of the Boston local union of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen. The officers of the local union do not think the strike will effect Boston.

RETAIL DRUGGISTS.

Twenty-Five Hundred Declared Guilty of Contempt of Court.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Twenty-five hundred retail druggists in the United States were declared guilty of contempt of court by Judge Dunne, of the circuit court, Wednesday, and the National Association of Retail Druggists, of which they are members, was fined $2,000, while Thomas V. Wooten, secretary of the organization, was fined $500. The cases against five wholesale druggists of Chicago, also charged with contempt, were continued until the fall term of court, when it will be necessary for them to take additional proof into court to purge them of the contempt charges.

The injunction under which the druggists' association was fined was secured by Isaac Platt, a retail druggist of Chicago, in November, 1902, and restrained them from interfering in any manner with the securing of supplies by Platt, who had incurred the association's displeasure. It was charged, because he would not join it.

It is presumed that the princess is in the company of Mattasitch and is seeking to gain an asylum where she will be safe from recapture.

The escape of the princess was accomplished in a mysterious and romantic manner. Ladders and a swift automobile were brought into play to effect her release from the hotel, where she has been immured almost as a prisoner, and to convey her to some refuge regarding the location nothing is known.

AMERICANS WON.

Track and Field Events of the World's Fair Revival of Olympic Games.

ROSE SMASHED WORLD'S RECORD.

After Three Trials the Chicagoan Put the Sixteen-Pound Shot 48
Feet and 7 Inches.

H. L. Hillman, of New York, Ran the 400 Metre Hurdle in 32.5 Seconds
—Frank Waller, of Milwaukee, Finished Second.

St. Louis, Sept. 1.—Again have the athletes competing in the track and field events of the Louisiana purchase exposition revival of the Olympic games demonstrated that they are the peers of any previous aggregation of international character.

Wednesday, the third of the 1904 Olympic, one world record fell before the prowess of an American, three Olympic records were broken, the laurels going to two Americans and a Greek; and one Olympic and world's record was broken, but owing to an unfortunate accident, the time will not be allowed in the latter as the official record.

As an indication of what the day was to bring forth, H. L. Hillman, of the New York Athletic club, ran the 400 metre hurdle in 32.5 seconds, under the Olympic and world's records. Hillman was forced the entire distance by Frank Waller, of the Milwaukee Athletic club, who finished second, and in the excitement of the race Hillman failed to clear the last hurdle clearly and the barrier fell to the ground, disqualifying his record, but not affecting the result of the race.

The 200 metre run again brought out a field of record breakers. Archie Hahn, of the Milwaukee A. C., won the first heat in the record time of 22.15 seconds. He fought the distance with W. J. Cartmell, of Louisville, Ky., and only won by inches. The second heat was a trifle slower, but Hogenson was not pushed.

In the final (the distance by American measurement of the 200 metre being 218.73 yards) resulted in the lowering of the Olympic record by three-fifths of a second. Hahn won the event, but secured an advantage at the start of two yards over his three competitors, the latter having made a false start and receiving penalties.

Perikles Kakousis, of Athens, Greece, had everything his own way in lifting the barbell. The other entries were two men from the Milwaukee A. C. and one from St. Louis. Kakousis won the event by lifting a weight of 186 pounds. He did this with apparently so little decency that Otto C. Osthoff, of the Milwaukee A. C., withdrew after having lifted an equal weight after several attempts.

Kakousis then went after the Olympic record. He first lifted 200 pounds, and then had the weights adjusted at 246 pounds, four ounces more than the record made by the Danish athlete, V. Jensen, of the Copenhagen A. C., at the Athens Olympic in 1896. His first attempt was successful.

Ralph W. Rose, of the Chicago Athletic association, played ducks and drakes with the Olympic and world's record in the 16-pound shot put. His first essay buried the Olympic record and came within two inches of the world's record. He tried twice more before he succeeded in smashing the latter with a put of 48 feet 7 inches. The former Olympic record was 46 feet 3 3/4 inches, made by R. Sheldon, of the New York A. C. at Paris in the 1900 revival of the Olympic games, and the former world's record was 48 feet 2 inches.

The standing high jump, Ray C. Ewry, of the New York A. C., first, 4 feet 11 inches; Joseph F. Stadler, of Cleveland, O., second, 4 feet 10 inches; Lawson Robertson, G. N. Y. I. A. A., New York, third, 4 feet 10 inches; John A. Bliler, N. T. V., Newark, N. J., fourth, 4 feet 9 inches.

PARKER THE HOPE OF THE COUNTRY.

Reference has been made to the fact that ex-Senator George S. Boutwell of Massachusetts, one of the founders of the Republican party, has come out in favor of Judge Parker. Referring to Judge Parker's speech of acceptance, Senator Boutwell says:

Some of us who helped to organize the Republican party and many who had supported it since look now to Judge Parker as the hope of the country. His speech was wise and conservative. It will win strength for him everywhere. It is a speech that must be acceptable to all true Democrats; it contains nothing that serious, thinking Republicans can object to and it will be indorsed by the anti-imperialists.

Continuing, he says:

Naturally I am interested most in what Judge Parker has to say about the Philippine question, because that affects the very character of our government, and the future of our institutions. At the same time, I do not sympathize with the idea of a rigid or changeable tariff. The tariff must change to suit business; business must not change to suit the tariff. The idea must be apparent to a good many Republicans.

It is his utterance on imperialism and militarism that Judge Parker strikes a note that ought to meet with a response in every part of the country. It is useless to look to Mr. Roosevelt for any leadership in the Philippine question. I believe that Judge Parker intends to carry out the Democratic policy of Philippine independence if he is elected; that he favors the idea of acting forthwith, first by an assurance to the Filipinos, then by steps to make the assurance good.

The importance of the position taken by the Democratic party in the St. Louis platform and its indorsement by Judge Parker may be realized in one example, which has been presented to the country. It must be assumed that Gov. Taft left the country for the Philippine Islands as a Republican, recognizing the example of Jefferson and the doctrine of the Declaration of Independence as worthy of confidence and support. He returned making the statement as the result of his experience in the Philippine Islands, where he had exercised unlimited power over millions of human beings, that the Declaration of Independence contains "a mass of impossible dogmas and rhetorical phrases."

"In the presence of this example the country may well take heed as to the educational system that is to go on in America while we are attempting to educate the Philippine Islanders. Of the officers of our civil service who may be employed in the Philippines, and of our army of soldiers, it would be extraordinary if a very large proportion of them did not return with views corresponding with those expressed by Gov. Taft. Thus we have created a large body of reactionaries who have returned from the Philippine Islands with the idea that the government under which they were born and educated is based on errors."

"Imperialistic notions thus engendered will give support to the military projects in which the present administration is engaged. Judge Parker has wisely directed the attention of the nation in the direction."

"The new army bill, prepared under the direction of Mr. Root, has transferred to the United States the jurisdiction of the great body of citizen soldiers who, by the constitution, owe their first allegiance to the States and through the States to the National Government, with constitutional limitations to the uses to which they may be put."

"The augmentation of the navy is a consequence of the possession of the Philippine and other islands and the granting of independence to the Philippines would relieve us from the apparent necessity of an increase of the navy; indeed, it would furnish an occasion for the abandonment of the idea that we are to compete with England and Germany in the magnitude of our navy.

"Just look at the facts. The treasury report for the month of July gives an aggregate of $30,000,000 chargeable to the army and navy. The expenses of the army and navy for the same month last year were $25,000,000. These expenditures indicate an annual expense for our army and navy of $300,000,000 of which it may be said with truth one-half is due to the acquisition of insular possessions."

"Whither are we going? These expenditures for the army and navy are a very important part of the immense increase in the total expenses of the government, which in the period of my own memory have risen from $13,000,000 a year to $781,000,000, the aggregate of the appropriations made by Congress for the current fiscal year."

OUTLOOK FOR FARMERS.

Tobacco Cannot Make a Full Crop, But Corn Will Be Nearly Up to the Average.

[Weekly Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Louisville, Aug. 30th.]

The first half of the week was warm, with a few local showers; the latter part was fair and cool, the nights being unusually cool for the time of year.

Tobacco has improved to quite an extent since the recent rain, but even with favorable conditions it can not make a full crop. Some fields were set out under unfavorable conditions and did not get a good start and some have suffered from drouth. The crop has been unusually free from worms. Cutting is in progress in the early fields. Corn is looking more promising since the rains and, as a whole, will be nearly up to the average. It is maturing slowly and generally has plump, well-filled ears. The greater part of it will be ready for cutting between the 15th and 20th of September.

Peaches are turning out better than expected and are coming into market plentifully. Apples are not so good and are wormy and inferior. Irish and sweet potatoes are yielding well.

A fair crop of millet has been saved.

Considerable clover has been cut for seed and a good yield is reported. Sorghum looks promising and nearly ready to make up. Hemp has not done well and is not up to the standard.

Plowing for wheat is in progress and farm work is generally well up.

REVENUE FROM INSURANCE.

Kentucky Received Over $225,000 From This Source the Past Year—Handsome Increase Over Previous Year.

State Insurance Commissioner Henry R. Prewitt has made his report to the Auditor of collections for the fiscal year ending June 30th last, and it shows an excess over previous year of nearly $50,000.

The revenues of this department of the State Government are the licenses on companies doing business in Kentucky and tax on premiums collected by the companies during the year. During the last month the Commissioner has collected as tax on premiums for the year the sum of $220,584.43. For the year previous there was collected the sum of $182,215.33, showing a difference of $38,369.10.

There was collected as licenses on companies the sum of $7,905.17 in excess of last year, making a total excess over last year of $46,274.27.

John Emmons, of Dexter, was in town Wednesday en route to Cincinnati to decide what was the best disposition to be made of his daughter Frankie who figured in the sensational Harter-Druen murder and suicide case this week. He expressed some intention of having her placed in the care of the Kentucky Children's Home Society, but was undecided, and will consult the Cincinnati authorities before reaching a final decision.

HERE AND THERE.

Items of Interest From Nearby Towns and Villages Contributed by the Bulletin's Corps of Correspondents.

EAST LESTON, Aug. 30th.—Farmers are cutting tobacco.

"Bud" Sweet finished threshing the grain in this neighborhood this week. He estimates his loss from the destructive Hailstorm at $1,000. The hail was four inches deep back of his residence, and remained on the ground several hours.

Several from about here attended the late protracted meeting at Orangeburg and enjoyed the elegant services.

Cherry Grove camp meeting was largely represented from this neighborhood Sunday.

John Stewart and family of Rectorville spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of Thomas Sloup.

Mrs. Robert Luman and mother, Mrs. Sears, of Maysville, visited her sister, Mrs. Weede Breese, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. Oder and children have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Kidder's mother, Mrs. Margaret Williams, who remains quite poorly.

Miss Mae Beagle of Winchester is visiting friends here en route to her grandmother's home at West Union where she goes to attend school. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tully of Cottageville, after visiting their daughter, Mrs. Henry Day, of Orangeburg were pleasant guests of relatives here, returning home Saturday.

The question of creating an indebtedness of $25,000 by order of the Fiscal Court for the purpose of erecting a new infirmary building is not generally appreciated by the voters in this section. They seem to be under the impression that the present one is "good enough," as one of the inmates who has possessed and expended a fortune, and of course has lived in luxury and ease during this period of life, asserts that he never had or enjoyed a better home than his present one, refusing to leave it to accept the offer of a luxurious home for the remainder of his days with a wealthy son. They doubtless presume it more necessary to submit some measure that will benefit the roads of the county, adding thereby a general and public benefit. If we mistake not there was a voice not long ago echoed in the columns of the BULLETIN from the west end of the county in regard to their need in this line.

The Barlow Minstrels.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, Monday August 29th says:

Barlow Brothers' Minstrels scored a hit at Chester Park yesterday. The setting of the first part represented a scene at the St. Louis Exposition. There were six end men and a like number of vocalists, besides a good chorus and an effective orchestra. The songs were in the main new and the stories and jokes rather new. Everything went with a swing and a dash that was refreshing. The olio consisted of a number of interesting specialties.

The minstrels are the opening attraction at the Washington, Tuesday, September 6th, and a crowded house should greet them. Seat sale opens at Ray's Saturday morning.

Miss Lida Berry will resume her music class Sept. 6th.

Good second-hand upright piano, also a square, cheap. Must be sold. At Gerbrich's.

Rev. T. P. Degman will assist in a protracted meeting at Blue Licks, beginning next Sunday.

Poyntz Bros. are the only Maysville distillers selling pure liquors by the quart, gallon or barrel, direct from distillery to consumer. Seven-year-old whisky $2 per gallon. Age and quality guaranteed. Get the best. Office 126 Market street—Watson's old stand.

Several bushels of seedless apples are on exhibition at the World's Fair. This improved seedless apple, says an exchange, like seedless orange, is the result of scientific work of horticulturists. The apple tree is blossomless and the fruit is free from worms and hard enough to endure the severest frost.

People interested should make a note of this and try it. A farmer who has tried the experiment says: "If you will sprinkle sulphur on the barn floor and through your corn as you gather, there will not a rat or mouse bother it. I have done this for several years and have never been bothered with rats or mice. In stacking hay or oats sprinkle a little on the ground and on each load, and my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large bin of corn and is good for stock and will not hurt the corn for bread."

REMNANTS OF CURTAIN SWISSES.

It's a matter of common knowledge that the prettiest patterns always sell down quickest to short lengths. That's the case with the small group of patterns in curtain materials which we offer to-day at short prices to match the short lengths, which are from 5 to 15 yards of a pattern.

A fine quality of figured Swiss Muslin, 36 inches wide, at 10c. a yard instead of 15c.

White Madras in dot and floral design, 40 inches wide, at 9c. a yard instead of 12½c.

A few dainty patterns of printed Swiss Muslin in attractive colorings, 45 inches wide, at 25c. yard, instead of 50c.

Fine Mercerized Waistings 25c Yard.

It seems almost absurd to mention it, but these fine Mercerized Waistings were made to sell at 50c a yard. We reduced them earlier in the season to 39c and now to clean up the remainder we mark them 25c. a yard.

About 12 patterns in all, including extra heavy qualities suitable for fall wear.

KILLS GERMS OF CATARRH.

Hyomei Goes to the Root of the Disease and Makes Astonishing Cures.

Catarrh cannot be cured by the use of pills, liquid medicines and so-called system tonics. Under such treatment the germs of the disease will still live in the air passages and increase and multiply.

Hyomei is the only scientific and thorough way to cure catarrh. Killing the germs in the air passages, it enters the blood with the oxygen, destroys the microbes in the blood and effectually drives from the system all traces of catarrhal poison.

Probably the strongest evidence that can be offered as to the powers of Hyomei to cure catarrh is the fact that J. J. Wood & Son will agree to refund the money if you say Hyomei has not cured you.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents.

JUDGE J. S. POWER.

Father of Mrs. Dr. Edwin Mathews Passed Away Wednesday at His Home in Flemingsburg.

Hon. John S. Power, formerly County Judge of Fleming County, died Wednesday morning at his home in Flemingsburg, after an illness of a few weeks, from a complication of stomach and other troubles. For a week or so his condition had been so serious as to give but little if any hope of his recovery.

Judge Power was sixty-five years old, and leaves his wife and four children.—Mrs. Dr. Matthews and Joseph Power of this city, Lieutenant Carroll Power of Ft. Rodman, Mass., and Miss Lida of Flemingsburg. He had been honored by Fleming's citizens in many ways, and had served as State Auditor's Agent a number of years.

The funeral will take place at 3:30 this afternoon. The interment will be at Flemingsburg.

Judge Power had a large circle of friends in this city and county who learn with sorrow of his death.

THE SEWER QUESTION.

Work to Proceed to the Extent of Available Funds—New Bonds to Be Voted on in November.

At the meeting of the Ways and Means Committee of the city Wednesday afternoon it was decided after full consideration of the question in all its aspects to direct the committee heretofore appointed to proceed with the work of constructing the Fifth and Sixth ward sewer and to push the construction as far as the available funds will permit. For this purpose it was estimated that from $6,000 to $7,000 of the emergency bonds could be used.

The committee was also in favor of re-submitting the proposition authorizing the $12,000 sewer bonds to a vote of the people at the regular November election, the vote heretofore taken having been decided illegal.

EIGHTY-FOURTH SESSION.

Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, Convened Wednesday at Lexington.

The eighty-fourth session of the Kentucky conference of the M. E. Church, South, convened in the High street church, with Bishop A. Coke Smith of Norfolk, Va., in the chair. This is Bishop Smith's first official visit to this body. His remarks, based on the twelfth chapter of Romans, were impressive.

The roll call showed nearly all of the 140 preachers present. Rev. W. E. Arnold, former Secretary, was re-elected.

Rev. Julius E. Wright, transferred a year ago to the Indian mission conference, asked to know his standing, as the transfer was refused by that conference. Bishop Smith ruled that Rev. Wright was a member of that conference and not the Kentucky. Dr. H. G. Henderson of Helena, Ark., formerly of this conference, preached in the afternoon.

The question of uniting the educational interests of the M. E. Church and the M. E. Church, South, will come up in a day or two for action.

Mr. F. H. Roden and family are moving into their new home on West Third street.

The old iron river guage at the foot of Market street is to be replaced by one of freestone, the work to be completed by the last of September. The contract has been awarded the Garnett Marble Company, which is a guarantee that the work will be up-to-date.

The Civil Service Commission will hold an examination in Maysville on September 17 to fill the positions of clerk and carrier in the postoffice service. For application blanks, full instructions, specimen examination questions, and information relative to the duties and salaries of the different positions, and the location of the examination room, application should be made to the Secretary of the board of examiners at the postoffice. Applications will be accepted for this examination by the secretary of the local board up the hour of examination.

Maysville People Can Decide.

You would not accept the word of an utter stranger as readily as that of a person whom you knew. The following statement is made by a citizen, perhaps a neighbor. Read it.

PITHY POINTS.

Mrs. Nation sticks to her text much closer than the New York Sun.

It's about as hard to "put your finger on" the New York Sun as it would be to put it on its namesake.

No sort of bird, beast or creeping thing will touch a castor oil plant. It seems to be a rank poison to all the animal world. Even the goat will starve before biting off a leaf and a horse will snuff at it and turn up its upper lip as though it had the most unpleasant odor on the face of the earth. Army worm and the locust will pass it by, tho' they may eat every other green thing in sight, and there is no other surer way to drive moles away from the lawn than to plant a few castor beans here and there. Even the tobacco worm will refuse to be fed on its leaves. There is hardly another instance in natural history of a plant being so universally detested by the animal world.
